

HND Didactics, Curriculum Development and Teaching

Course Overview & Study Guide

Note: This document is an academic study guide produced by UNEE based on the official HND examination framework. It is not an official government syllabus. For the official syllabus, contact the Ministry of Higher Education, Cameroon.

About HND Didactics, Curriculum Development and Teaching

DCT graduates are trained as professional educators who understand not just their subject matter but the science of how people learn and how effective curricula are designed.

The program goes beyond teaching technique — you study educational psychology, curriculum theory, and educational management.

With the government's push to improve educational quality and the growth of private schools, DCT graduates have strong employment prospects.
